

violence against children what adults in NSW had to say end violence against children now be a part of changing the world forever

Top 5 responses when asked what forms violence against children can take:

physical abuse

verbal abuse

emotional abuse

sexual abuse

punching /beating of people in NSW believe that violence against children is more prevalent in some communities

On average, people think that about 1 in 5 cases of children reporting abuse are not true

Estimated number of children in NSW who are victims of violence more than 4 in 5 (82%) people living in NSW would support a campaign raising awareness of violence against children say they would be prepared to pay a levy that was invested in programs that are proven to reduce violence against children

41%